

Contents

During the Summer of 2018, I had the amazing opportunity of participating in the Summer Research Institute (SRI) at St. Thomas University, where we learned about Data Science and some of the techniques used to help visualize big data, including Principal Component Analysis and K-means Clustering. Additionally, we learned about some of the linear algebra and matrix calculus involved behind Data Science.

poster_Vega_North.pdf